

50,000 View Body Of Ruth In Stadium As Last Tribute

New York, Aug. 18 (AP)—Babe Ruth's body, lying in state in Yankee Stadium, today was a magnetic symbol drawing thousands of persons from hundreds of miles.

Long before dawn crowds began lining up to file silently and tearfully past the candle-light bier of the idolized king of baseball.

About 50,000 persons viewed his body yesterday and last night. It lies in the stadium lobby a couple of hundred feet behind home plate from which he drove many of the home runs that brought him fame.

The Babe, racked by pain and wasted by cancer for nearly two years, died Monday night in Memorial hospital at the age of 53. He never was told he was suffering from cancer.

Some Charter Buses
The crowd lined up 10 abreast outside the stadium but passed by the casket placed in the center of the lobby in a double line. About half the crowd consisted of women and children.

Their dress ranged from work clothes to sports attire and more modish garb. Many carried lunch boxes.

Many of those in line today came from Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, upstate New York, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland. They came in autos, taxis and chartered buses.

They stood patiently as the sun came up, a quiet, remembering throng.

Children passing the bier knew the Babe only as a legend. But their parents remembered him in all his ebullient, ball-smashing reality. He was part of a fast-fading era, but many of the records he set still stand.

It was nearly midnight before the last of the mourners had viewed the casket.

Except for the solemnity of the crowd, the scene could have been a flashback to the days when the Babe was packing them in. The youngsters and oldsters that came to see him in death were the same kind of people who jammed the bleachers to see him swat a homer into the rightfield stands—"Ruthville."

Many Sob Openly
There was the same stream of human beings pouring out of the subway stations and converging on the stadium, the same mounted and foot policemen controlling the lines, the same working men in shirt sleeves, the schoolboys in their skull-caps, the old timers, the housewives and the hotdogs sizzling on a grill under the elevated.

But though the setting was the same, the mood was not.

Some sobbed openly as they walked past the body of the man who, more than any other, symbolized America's national sport. Many had tears in their eyes, and others paused briefly to kneel and pray.

Last in the line last night was Bill Robinson, 70-year-old negro dancer and long-time friend of Ruth. Robinson gazed silently at the former Yankee star for a moment, then took off his glasses and wiped them as he walked away. It was the second time Robinson had passed the casket during the night.

200 Arrive Late

As police were preparing to close the doors to the stadium lobby, 200 more men and women arrived. They explained they were unable to reach the stadium earlier because of night jobs.

On instructions from Ruth's widow, Claire, the casket was reopened and they filed past.

Then the lights were dimmed, leaving the room shadowy. Flickering candlelight played against the rotunda's massive pillars. The backdrop of potted palms and floral arrangements, a crucifix and beyond

Althoff Girl's Death Laid To Fall From Automobile; Woodward Statement Read

An Adams county coroner's jury Tuesday evening found that Goldie Teresa Althoff, 18-year-old Gettysburg R. D. girl, came to her death as a result of injuries received when she fell from her father's car.

The inquest into the death of Miss Althoff was one of the longest in recent history, lasting for three hours, with the presentation of testimony consuming two and a quarter hours. The jury was out for 45 minutes before reaching its decision. Dr. C. G. Crist, the county coroner, conducted the inquest.

According to testimony, Miss Althoff was riding in the rear seat of her father's car on August 11 about a quarter mile south of Gettysburg when she attempted to close a door of the car and fell to the highway. A car driven by Jay T. Woodward, 20, South Washington street, ran over a portion of the girl's body while she lay on the roadway. She was removed to the Warner hospital and died there about an hour after the accident.

Called Hospital
Woodward, according to testimony given Tuesday, stopped his car, aided Miss Althoff's father in removing the girl from the roadway, went to Bankert's restaurant nearby and called the Warner hospital for the ambulance, remained until the girl was placed in the ambulance and then left, when others were leaving the scene. In his statement, read by police at the inquest, he said he planned to report the matter to state police after he finished work the next day.

Woodward did not testify on advice of his attorney, Edgar K. Markley.

Members of the coroner's jury included Cyril Staub, Ivan Kitzmiller, Benton Gilbert, James Tawney, Wilbur Geiselman and G. Henry Roth. They found that Miss Althoff "came to her death by means of a fractured skull, crushed chest, fractures of both thighs, internal injuries and shock, and that said injuries were inflicted and the death of the said Goldie T. Althoff was caused by the injuries received from a fall from the car of William Althoff which occurred when she attempted to close the door of the car."

Father Breaks Down
Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, physician at the local hospital, who was the first witness, told the jury that death was primarily caused by the fractured skull and crushed chest although all of the injuries contributed to the shock which caused death. He said that it was impossible to

U.S. May Ask Reds To Recall Consul General In New York

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall said today the United States views with serious concern the Russian charges against this government and some of its officials in connection with refugee school teacher cases in New York. Marshall said Soviet protests about American handling of the cases probably will be answered formally within the next 24 hours. He said a note is in process of preparation, based on reports from authorities in New York city.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—The United States may ask Russia to recall Yakov M. Lomakin as consul general in New York because of his role in the Kosenkina case. Officials said a precise decision remains to be made, however, after the State Department completes its study of New York police reports of the refugee school teacher incident. Meanwhile, diplomatic authorities are puzzling over indications that the Soviet Union is closing all the schools it had operated in many countries for the children of its diplomats and other employees abroad. It was in connection with the closing of such a school in New York that Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina and her colleagues, Mr. and Mrs. Mikhail Samarin, decided they would prefer to stay in this country rather than go back to Russia.

But on July 31 more than 300 Soviet citizens—mostly school age children and their mothers—died sail from New York on the Russian motor ship Pobeda. Authorities here assume that a similar return to Russia is being required by the Soviet government of many hundreds of dependents of Russian diplomats and other employees around the world.

The Russian motive in all this is what has official Washington puzzled. Most speculation centers on the possibility that the Soviets want to prevent the "contamination" of their school age children by any contact with Western democratic ideas. Another possibility often suggested by diplomats, however, is that by having the wives and children at home, the Soviet government in effect holds them hostages against any desire of Russian diplomats to renounce Communism.

Very little credence is placed by officials here in the theory that Moscow might be clearing the decks for war. The main reason given for discounting this idea is that the Russians are permitting childless families and those with only pre-school age children to remain abroad.

FILE PAPER IN CEMETERY DEAL

A deed recording the first half of a transaction by which the Evergreen Cemetery Association will gain the trolley right of way which bisects the present cemetery was filed today with the register and recorder.

The deed is from Margaret A. McMillan, Gettysburg, executrix of Miriam A. McMillan, late of Gettysburg, and David Kent MacMillan, Chicago, and John Roy and Florence Lavina MacMillan, Charles-town, W. Va., to the U. S. government. By the paper the McMillans give the government over four acres of land west of West Confederate avenue.

Five hundred dollars was paid by the cemetery association to the McMillans for the property, the deed shows. In exchange the government is to give the cemetery association a deed to the former trolley right of way, a 30 foot wide strip running from the Littlestown road to the Taneytown road. At present the right of way divided the cemetery in half. Officials of the cemetery said they believe the deed to the right of way will be turned over to the cemetery association within the next few weeks.

SEEKS QUALITY IN EXHIBITS AT SOUTH MT. FAIR

Adams county's vegetable growers were invited today by Dean Asquith, superintendent of the vegetable growers exhibit at the South Mountain Fair to "spread your reputation as a grower of fine produce."

There will be displays at the fair for a number of single varieties of vegetables and numerous other exhibits in which prizes will be awarded, Asquith said.

Pointing out that some exhibitors will win $1 each for the best summer cabbage, the best Chinese cabbage, the best muskmelon, the best pumpkin and the best squash, Asquith added that the amount of the prizes is not so important as "the feeling you will have of achievement in winning against the best products of so many other farmers and gardeners."

Displays And Prizes

Among the vegetable displays and prizes will be $1 first prize, 75 cents second and fifty cents third money for the single specimens of summer cabbage, etc.; $1 first, 75 cents second and fifty cents third for plate displays of one quart bush or pole snap beans, green lima beans in the pod or shelled, five beets, carrots, slicing cucumbers, onions, peppers, tomatoes, turnips, ten ears of sweet corn, sweet potatoes and pickling cucumbers.

Green vegetable displays, with the roots of the vegetables in soil or water to prevent wilting include, celery, endive, kale, lettuce, spinach, green onions, parsley and radish. Prizes of $1 first, 75 cents second and 50 cents third will be awarded.

Asquith also urged all countians to take part in the tomato exhibit so "we can see who grows the fine tomatoes that are processed in our canneries." The exhibits of tomatoes will be in % bushel baskets. First prize will be $5; second, $4; third, $3; fourth, $2 and fifth, $1.

For display, Asquith urged the tomato growers to choose a uniform variety of one type, remove the stems and place a variety label on the package. The tomatoes should be at least 90 per cent red with not more than 10 per cent waste from defects, he said.

FALL OFF ROOF IS FATAL FOR GLENN ARENTZ

Glenn Arentz, 40, Gettysburg R. 1, died at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the Warner hospital of injuries received when he fell about 11 o'clock this morning from the roof of the Adams County Fruit Packing and Distributing company building in Biglerville.

Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, said death was due to a fractured skull, crushed chest and internal injuries.

An employee of the Citizens Oil company, Arentz had been engaged in repairing the roof of the fruit packing building when he slipped on hot tar, skidded across the edge of the roof and fell 35 feet to the macadam road, landing on his left side and back.

Brought to the Warner hospital in the ambulance, he was unconscious from the time he struck the ground until his death.

Employed Three Years
Arentz has been employed by the roofing construction division of the Citizens Oil company since its establishment about three years ago.

A son, Richard Glenn Arentz, was injured last September 26 when he fell from a scaffolding while repairing the roof of a dance pavilion owned by the state in the Mont Alto state forest.

The younger Arentz fell 42 feet from the cupola at that time and suffered fractures of both ankles and a fractured vertebra, the day before he was to have been married. The marriage took place on October 4 while Arentz was still a patient at the Warner hospital.

Arentz suffered a fractured skull, crushed left side of the chest and a possible rupture of the spleen. He died 45 minutes following his admission to the hospital.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, and State Policeman James Walsh investigated. Dr. Crist said this afternoon there will not be an inquest.

Arentz is survived by his wife and several children.

TOE CRUSHED BY TRAIN CAR

Carl Ritchie, 31, Bolling Springs, Reading company employe, suffered a crushed large toe Tuesday afternoon at the quarry crossing in an unusual accident from which he was fortunate to escape with his life. He also suffered cuts about the face.

Ritchie, a brakeman, was engaged in uncoupling a box car from an engine, and was standing with one foot on the rear of the engine and the other on the car. The engine was to jerk loose from the car and continue on ahead on one track while the car was scheduled to continue on its momentum along the track and be switched off onto another track.

Ritchie told Reading officials that the cuff of his overalls caught on the engine when he started to swing off the engine to the car and ride it on its free traveling trip to its scheduled stopping place. The engine jerked just as Ritchie's cuff caught and he was thrown to the tracks ahead of the oncoming car. He twisted off the tracks, with a wheel passing over the toe of his shoe. His face was scratched by the passing box car. Removed by ambulance to the Warner hospital he was given treatment there.

JACK GARNER'S WIFE EXPIRES IN UVALDE, TEX.

Uvalde, Tex., Aug. 18 (AP) — Mrs. John Nance Garner, Cactus Jack's "right hand" is dead.

The wife of the 32nd vice-president of the United States died last night in the state hospital here after a long illness. She was 78.

Garner was at his wife's side when she died. Others present included their only son, Tully, a Uvalde banker, and their only grandchild, Mrs. John J. Currie, of Amarillo. Two great-grandsons also survive.

Wed 63 Years
The life of "Cactus Jack" Garner since his marriage had been the life of a man. Elizabeth Reiner, whom he affectionately called "Ette," that life began 63 years ago at Sabinal, Tex., when on Nov. 26, 1885, they were married.

She and her husband had been living quietly on their nine-acre town ranch since he stepped down as vice-president in 1941. Garner did not choose to run for a third term with the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The spotlight of public interest focused again on the Garners when they celebrated their golden anniversary in 1945 at the Uvalde home, not far from her birthplace.

Mrs. Garner personally did the marketing for the anniversary celebration. "How much does it weight and what does it cost?" she asked the butcher. Then she told him "You and your wife must come to our little party tomorrow."

3 Kisses A Day
Returning home, she looked critically at her husband. "Mr. Garner, you need a shave," she told him. "Go to town and get it or you will be a grizzly bear tomorrow."

Garner pulled his old gray felt hat down over his bushy eyebrows and left for the barber shop.

"I still listen to her and kiss her at least three times a day," he said then.

She was Ette, his "right hand."

RASH OF FIRES DRIVES FAMILY INTO GARAGE

Macomb, Ill., Aug. 18 (AP) — A mysterious rash of fires that drove a family from their house and destroyed the house and a barn, continued to baffle investigators today.

One theory, under consideration but far from conclusive, was that a fly spray used on the Charles Willey farm, 12 miles south of here, might have caused the outbreak of between 100 and 200 small fires in the Willey home.

A reporter for the Macomb Journal obtained a quantity of the spray, poured it on the ground and touched a match to it. He reported it was "highly inflammable."

House And Barn Burn
The fires began breaking out about ten days ago and were extinguished by the Willey family, aided by neighbors. As they grew more frequent the family moved from the house to the garage. The house was destroyed by fire Saturday night and the barn burned down Monday.

Willey was unable to determine what caused the fires. He said he has no enemies. His insurance on the buildings was well below their replacement cost.

The fires first appeared to start in the wallpaper. Scorched spots appeared on the walls and later these burst into flame. Thinking the content of the wall paper was causing the blazes, Willey and his neighbors tore it off the walls.

Probers Baffled
But that didn't end the menace. Fires continued to break out in the wood plaster laths. One neighbor said he removed a window curtain and laid it over the head of a bed. While he was in the house, he said, the curtain burst into flame.

The mystery is being investigated by John Burgard, deputy state fire marshal, and Fred Wilson, chief of the Macomb fire department. Neither have been able to reach any conclusions but chemical tests of the building materials are being made.

Meanwhile, Willey and his wife, both in their 60's, and their two children are hoping the garage holds out.

9 NATIONS PUT PEACE BEFORE DISARMAMENT

(By The Associated Press)

The United Nations Arms commission finally has reached the inevitable conclusion that the world isn't yet ready for arms reduction—that international tension must be ended before countries will be willing to slash armaments.

That is, nine of the 11 nations on the commission have agreed on this point. The other two members—Soviet Russia and the Soviet Ukraine—of course say "no."

The commission maintain that the way to create confidence is to disarm. The western powers, on the other hand, hold that this is putting the cart before the horse; they insist that peace and confidence are what will inspire disarmament. The majority hold that essentials for the establishment of world confidence include the following:

Three Points Listed

(1) Agreement on atomic control, (2) Creation of a world police force, and (3) signing of German and Japanese peace treaties.

While the commission was debating this momentous issue at Lake Success yesterday, Britain's Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery (chief of the Imperial general staff and so England's top soldier) made some pointed remarks on the same subject. In a speech calling for 150,000 reserves to back up the country's defenses the field marshal declared that "the best chance of avoiding war in modern times is to be prepared."

"We cannot hope for breathing space as in 1939, at the outbreak of another world conflict."

Writing On The Wall

Montgomery was speaking to a British audience, but he was only reading the writing which all nations can see clearly on the wall. It's obvious that peace and confidence must precede disarmament—so much a truism that it seems absurd to debate the matter at all.

Certainly the western powers could venture no other stand under existing circumstances. A nation doesn't disarm when it is in the midst of war—and there is no halt in the "cold war" which Russia is waging for the spread of Communism.

Under such circumstances, agreement by the western powers to disarm would be the rankest sort of appeasement towards Bolshevism. And it would be suicidal appeasement of which the Red Ism would take prompt advantage.

Until the Bolshevik aggression is definitely ended, there can be no real peace, and the world's nations must remain armed.

Postmaster Charged With Embezzlement

Philadelphia, Aug. 18 (AP) — A warrant charging Vernon L. Fue, postmaster at Adelphi, N. J., with embezzlement was issued today by the acting chief postal inspector in Philadelphia.

Inspector Alexander J. Harkins said Fue disappeared from Adelphi, a town of 525 persons near Freehold, on August 7 and that $500 disappeared at the same time.

Harkins said Fue's whereabouts since that time are unknown.

FRACTURES HEEL

POINT TO LINK BETWEEN HISS AND RED FRIEND

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP) — Congressional spy probes pointed jubilantly today to a 1934-35 link between Alger Hiss, former state department official, and Whittaker Chambers, avowed one-time member of a Red underground.

Hiss himself admitted the connection by identifying Chambers as a man he knew years ago as "George Crosley" and as a free lance writer. That happened yesterday in New York, before members of the House un-American Activities committee and again at a news conference called by Hiss.

Previously, Chambers had testified under oath that Hiss was a member of the pre-war Red underground Chambers insisted had operated in Washington. And Hiss, also under oath, denied it. He denied, too, knowing anyone by the name of Whittaker Chambers. He said he could not identify Chambers by a picture.

Denies He's Red
Hiss still is sticking to his statement that he is no Communist and never has been.

But committee members said they are on stronger ground now that Hiss admits he knew Chambers at one time. Some of them had been saying their investigation would be hurt badly if it developed that Chambers actually never had known Hiss.

Hiss now is head of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace. Chambers is a senior editor of Time magazine.

The committee for the first time brought the two of them face to face yesterday afternoon in a New York hotel room. Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) said afterward that Hiss "positively identified" Chambers. Other committee members present were Chairman Thomas (R-N.J.), and Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.).

Hiss told reporters later that at the meeting Chambers said:

"Alger, we were both Communists."

Hiss said he threw up his hands at that and denied again to the committee that he was a Red.

Tells Of Friendship

This was the way Hiss outlined his relationship with the man he said he knew as Crosley:

Fifteen years ago, "Crosley" asked him for some material for magazine articles. Hiss at the time was a legal assistant to the Senate munitions investigating committee. (The committee was headed by former Senator Gerald P. Nye, North Dakota Republican.)

During the winter of 1934-35, he saw Crosley 10 to 11 times. He said he sublet an apartment to Crosley and that Chambers conceded last night he was in Hiss' apartment that winter.

Hiss said Crosley failed to pay the rent, and they parted on "not very pleasant terms."

In their first appearances before the committee, Chambers and Hiss both spoke so convincingly that members said they didn't know which one to believe. Some said one or the other ought to be prosecuted for perjury.

Last Monday, Hiss was questioned again. The committee proposed a lie detector test. Hiss said last night he would mail his answer today.

SOCIALITE AND SIMPSON MARRY

London, Aug. 18 (AP) — The marriage of Ernest Aldrich Simpson, former husband of the Duchess of Windsor, to Mrs. Avril Joy Leveson Gower, 39, sportswoman and socialite, was announced today.

An unobtrusive, five-line item on the society page of the London Times said the marriage took place on Aug. 12 and "Mr. and Mrs. Simpson will be in residence at 11 Upper Phillimore Gardens after September 10."

The staid Times made no other mention of the ceremony and it was not until mid-afternoon that other newspaper editors awoke to the story and splashed it on front pages.

A young woman who received telephone calls at Simpson's shipbroking office refused to say anything about the reported marriage.

"I simply am not talking," she told newspapermen.

The London Star said the marriage was Simpson's fourth and the third for Mrs. Gower, whose last husband was Brigadier Hugh Nugent Leveson Gower, company director and member of a cricket playing family.

The Duchess of Windsor — the former Wallis Warfield Simpson — was Simpson's second wife.

China On Verge Of Dictatorship

Shanghai, Aug. 18 (AP) — China, its Constitutional Democracy still shiny with newness, is on the verge of returning to a dictatorship.

The Young China newspaper said today in a joint dispatch from Nanking and Kuling, the summer capital, that President Chiang Kai-Shek will resume absolute power. He will rule China by decree under special authority granted him for use in event of national emergency, the dispatch said.

And in Nanking, China's executive Yuan announced an absolute ban on student demonstrations — denying even the right of petition; and on strikes or other labor actions that would hinder production. The order also permits search of private homes without warrants if there is evidence of "subversive activity."

TWO KILLED AS GAS EXPLODES; OTHERS BURNED

Butler, Pa., Aug. 18 (AP) — Two men were dead today and two others in serious condition following natural gas explosions in western Pennsylvania.

Property damage estimated at $50,000 resulted from the blast of a 10-inch natural gas line yesterday near Prospect, about three hours after the line had been installed under newly constructed route 422.

The explosion ripped a hole four feet deep and 15 feet long, shook houses as far as five miles away and destroyed three trucks and a new caterpillar carryall valued at $35,000.

Charles Ekis, 60, of New Bethlehem, a welder for the Manufacturers' Light & Heat Co., was killed. Clifford Grimes of Slippery Rock, was burned badly and taken to a New Castle hospital. He is a foreman for the same company.

Flaming Torch

At McKeesport, Richard Carter, 22-year old Baltimore & Ohio railroad employe, was turned into a flaming torch as a railroad scraping machine hit a gas line supplying a steel company. William F. Rechter, 39, of McKeesport, who was helping in rescue efforts, collapsed and died of a heart attack.

Flames shot 80 feet into the air as the gas line was ignited, apparently by a spark. Carter was trapped in the front end of the car to which the scraper was attached.

McKeesport firemen finally interlaced streams of water to form an escape corridor and Carter was dragged from the car by Frank Nawrocki, 29-year old locomotive fireman of Freedom. Nawrocki's clothes had been purposely soaked and he escaped unharmed.

Rechter, assisting Nawrocki place Carter in an auto, collapsed and died shortly after he was stricken by a heart attack. Carter is in McKeesport hospital where officials said his condition was "very serious."

FELINE TRIES DRINKING TO OBTAIN FOOD

San Francisco, Aug. 18 (AP) — The story of a cat that was driven to drink was told to American veterinarians today to point up what they might do toward combatting psychoneurosis in humans as well as in animals.

This cat, in the laboratory of Dr. J. H. Masserman of the University of Chicago and Northwestern university, took alcohol in order to get up courage to do things it didn't like, to get food.

Motion pictures of the cat in action were shown to the American Veterinary Medical Society by Dr. Lloyd C. Moss, of Colorado Agricultural and Mechanical college.

The feline first was taught to lift the lid on a box to get food. Then it was trained to wait for a light to flash or a bell to ring before lifting the lid. Later it was required to close a switch activating the light or bell. Finally the switch was fixed to deliver an electric shock.

Driven By Hunger

The cat disliked the shock but was driven by increasing hunger. A little milk spiked with alcohol was placed within reach. Kitty learned to take a couple of bracers, then bang into the switch and endure the shock to satisfy its hunger.

Since animal pets and humans sometimes react alike, Dr. Moss said, veterinarians who know animal behavior may be able to detect signs of neuroses in pet owners and guide them to psychiatrists or other doctors.

The United States is the greatest pet-owning nation and also has the reputation of having the most neurotics, Dr. Moss said, and the pet animal population may be an index of this widespread affliction.

HENRICH HITS GRAND SLAMMER AGAINST NATS

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Tommy Henrich, "Mr. Old Reliable" of the New York Yankees, earned a space in the little Red book of baseball today by smashing his fourth grand slam home run of the season.

Only five other players have hit four bases-loaded wallop during one campaign. They were Frank Schulte, Chicago Cubs, 1911; the one and only Babe Ruth, Boston Red Sox, 1919; Lou Gehrig, Yankees, 1934; Rudy York, Detroit Tigers, 1938; and Vince Di Maggio, Philadelphia Phils, 1945.

Henrich's fourth last night helped the Yankees defeat the Washington Senators, 8-1, at Griffith stadium. The blow came in the third inning off Lanky Sid Hudson and paved the way for young Bob Porterfield's first major league victory. The result from Newark, making his third big league start would have had a shutout but for Sherry Robertson's home run in the eighth.

The Yankee victory put a dent in ceremonies honoring Washington Owner Clark Griffith. Among the dignitaries and capitol officials present was President Truman, who sat through the entire game.

Five Games Behind
Despite the triumph, the Yankees remained in fourth place, five full games back of the league leading Cleveland Indians. Cleveland defeated the Browns, 8-0, in St. Louis.

Lefty Gene Bearden pitched the Indians to their sixth straight triumph, holding the Browns hitless until the fifth inning and allowing only four hits the rest of the way. The Indians blasted starter Bill Kennedy, a former Indian, from the mound with six runs in the fifth.

The triumph put the Indians two full games ahead of the second place Philadelphia Athletics and three above Boston. The latter two teams were rained out after the A's had taken a 2-0 lead in only an inning and a half of play.

Rookie Ted Gray won his third straight game in as many starts as the Detroit Tigers staved off a late Chicago rally to turn back the White Sox, 6-4. Gray needed help from Virgil Trucks and Stubby Overmire when the White Sox rose up for three runs.

Braves Beat Giants
The Boston Braves held their two-game edge on the Brooklyn Dodgers in the tight National League race, scalping the New York Giants at the Polo grounds, 10-2. Big Bill Vosselle tamed his former teammates with six hits for his fourth victory over the Giants this year.

Both Giant runs came on home runs. Johnny Mize cracked his 28th in the fourth inning and Sid Gordon got his 23rd two frames later. Clint Conatser and Bob Elliott also homered for the Braves.

Rookie Carl Erskine registered his fifth straight pitching triumph, holding the Philadelphia Phils to eight hits as his Brooklyn mates backed him with 14 for an easy 10-1 victory. The Dodgers also took advantage of seven Philly errors and ran wild on the bases.

Gene Hermanski paced the Dodgers at bat with three hits and three runs scored.

Cubs Over Cards
In the only afternoon contest of the day, Johnny Schmitz pitched the Chicago Cubs for a 4-2 victory over the third place St. Louis Cardinals. Home runs by Stan Musial and Don Lang accounted for the Redbirds' runs. It was Musial's No. 30.

Phil Cavarretta, with a pair of hits and as many runs, was the big stickman for the Cubs. The defeat dropped the Cards three and a half games behind the Braves and one and a half below the Dodgers.

Ralph Kiner unloaded his 31st home run against the left field bleachers with two out in the last half of the ninth to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Lanky Ewell Blackwell was charged with his ninth defeat. Little Vic Lombardi gave up six hits for his sixth triumph.

Sports Roundup

By WILL GRIMSLEY
(For Hugh Fullerton, Jr.)

New York, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Babe was a big man with a big wallop but there are thousands who will remember him more for the little things he did along the way. A fine gesture here and there. A lift for the little guy.

Such as the time he held up an exhibition game 15 minutes while he accommodated a fledgling reporter on his first major assignment.

The date was April 4, 1933. The World Champion Yankees were swinging north after breaking spring camp. Marse Joe McCarthy brought them into Nashville, Tenn., with a flourish.

Babe Ruth's best playing days were behind him but his was still the magic name of baseball.

The youngster was told to get an interview with the Bambino—a personal piece, find out what the Babe eats, thinks, likes.

The hotel said, no, Mr. Ruth isn't in. At another hotel they said they hadn't seen him.

Not around, said Lefty Gomez, through a half opened door. Keep looking — you'll find him, encouragingly said McCarthy.

But after four hours, no Ruth. The youngster, exhausted, set up vigil at the ball park.

Shortly before game time, a taxi screamed up. The big man lumbered out. He was in uniform, stocking-footed, carrying his spiked shoes in his hand.

"Mr. Ruth," the boy said hesitantly, "I'd like to ask you a few questions."

"Shoot, kid," the Babe said pleasantly. He took a comfortable leaning position on the rail.

The Babe said he didn't think the three per cent beer, just legalized, would affect the game any. In fact, he liked a bit of the foam himself occasionally.

His favorite movie actor was George Bancroft and his favorite actress, Janet Gaynor. Favorite pastime? Why, hunting — rather shoot birds in the air than on the links.

The questions seem sophomoric almost 16 years later. But they only went to magnify the tremendous patience and consideration of the Yankee hero.

The biggest thrill? The home run hit into the centerfield bleachers at Wrigley Field in the World Series the year before. Favorite dish, quail.

"Hey, Babe, come on, it's time to start," his mates yelled from the field.

The Bambino gave a "G'wan" gesture and said: "Okay, kid, anything else?"

There were more questions. The Babe, under heavy pressure from the field and from the fans, appeared in no rush.

Then it was over — the written questions were exhausted.

"Thanks, Mr. Ruth," the young man said.

"Any time, kid," the Babe answered. He picked his way carefully down the rows of seats to the field.

It was a little thing, perhaps, but it made a lasting impression on the boy who got his interview. And it happened just like that. I still have the clipping. You see, it was my first by-line.

Army Softball Tournery Opens

Phoenixville, Pa., Aug. 18 (AP)—Teams from eight camps today opened a four-day competition for the softball championship of the Second Army.

Teams are entered from Fort Knox, Ky.; Camp Lee, Va.; Western Military division, Pittsburgh; New Cumberland (Pa.) General Depot; Fort Monroe, Va.; Army Chemical Center, Maryland; Fort George Meade, Md. and Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

Four games will be played daily at the Valley Forge General hospital.

The "Aces," organized earlier this summer by Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster, are setting an outstanding baseball record. Living up to their boast to "meet any team, anywhere, at any time," the squad had so far engaged in 24 games and has won 21 of them, tied two and lost one. Ten of the wins were of the shut-out variety. Their next contest will be held this evening when they meet Orrtanna at 6:15 o'clock at Orrtanna.

The Scranton Miners took over the front-running Utica Blue Sox, 9-2.

College All-Stars Rehearse For Game

Chicago, Aug. 18 (AP)—The college all-stars, with a captain benched by injury, tonight will cavort in mammoth Soldier Field in a dress rehearsal for Friday night's clash with the champion Chicago Cardinals of the National Football league.

The collegians yesterday elected Halfback Bob Elliott of Michigan as their leader in the 15th annual spectacle which will pack some 100,000 fans into the lake front stadium.

Elliott's mates made him captain, knowing that the brilliant Wolverine suffered a twisted knee in last Saturday's intra-squad game at Dwyer Stadium and may see little or no action against the Cards.

At the same time, Michigan Coach Benny Oosterbaan delegated Henry Fonde, Elliott's understudy on the Wolverine's Big Nine and Rose Bowl title squad last year, to replace Bump on the all-star squad.

BONNEAUVILLE LOSES
A team from Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg, defeated the Bonneauville baseball nine on the latter's field Tuesday evening 7-0.

BULLET SOCCER SQUAD TO HAVE 12 LETTERMEN

With 12 returning lettermen in the fold, Coach William D. Hartshorne, Jr., is looking forward to a promising season for his varsity soccerites at Gettysburg college this fall.

During the 1947 season the booters turned in a mediocre record, compiling two wins, two ties, and four defeats. However, a host of prospects coming up from the junior varsity of a year ago make the outlook much brighter, regardless of the fact that 12 regulars were lost via graduation.

On the forward line Coach Hartshorne has lettermen Bill Mizell, Kensington, Md.; Carlton Smith, Rockville Centre, N. Y.; Rudy Gleichman, Baltimore; Dick Allshouse, Philadelphia; Bob Strasser, Westmont, N. J.; Tom Rankin, Drexel Hill, and Bill Craighead, Harrisburg. In addition, Bert Buller, Pearl River, N. Y.; Gordon Grigsby, Lansdowne; Fritz Schmittner, Chambersburg; Bob Everhart, York, and Dave Hough, Palmyra, N. J., all half-backs, will also be returning. Hough may be shifted to goal where he did some relief work last fall as that spot is the big question in Coach Hartshorne's mind at present.

Among the most promising booters coming up are a pair of forwards, Anthony Costanzo, Philadelphia, and Bill Slee, Lewistown. Costanzo tied the junior varsity pitchmen in scoring during the '47 season, while Slee is rated as one of the best outside forwards on the squad.

The Bullet soccerites will open their season October 6 in a home game with Washington college. A nine game card has been set up.

Three Divide Golf Handicap Prizes

First prize for the women's kickers handicap at the Gettysburg Country club on Tuesday was divided by Mrs. Glenn L. Bream, Mrs. C. H. Smith and Miss Mary Billemeier with a net score of 79.

Mrs. George A. Bender won the prize for the least number of putts for 18 holes with a total of 29.

The putting green contest for 18 holes was tied by Mrs. Bream and Mrs. Smith. Mrs. George A. Bender was also awarded a prize.

Twenty women took part in the golfing contests while a number played bridge in the clubhouse.

On Sunday Donald Hershey and Robert Weaver divided the first and second prizes in the men's kickers handicap.

Wilmington Drops To Second Place

(By The Associated Press)
The Wilmington Blue Rocks are out of first place in the Interstate league today for the first time since June 19.

Wilmington lost to the York White Roses 5-2 last night while the Trenton Giants divided with the Hagerstown Owls, winning the nightcap 9-4 after losing the opener 7-4.

As a result, Trenton went into the lead by one percentage point. Trenton now has a record of 66 wins and 49 losses for an average of .579. Wilmington, with an average of .578, has won 63 games while losing 46.

In other games last night, Lancaster divided with Harrisburg and Sunbury split with the Allentown Cardinals. Lancaster won the opener 5-1 and dropped the second game 6-4. Sunbury nosed out Allentown 3-1 before losing the afterpiece 6-2.

Baby, 2, Opens Car Door And Is Killed

Media, Aug. 18 (AP) — Victor Gordon, Jr., 2, was struck and fatally injured yesterday when he managed to open an automobile door and step into the path of another car while his mother shopped at a roadside stand.

Ironically, the mother had left the child alone in the car because it seemed safer than taking him with her unto the edge of the busy highway, police said.

The boy died two hours after arrival at Media hospital.

Today's Talk

BREATH
Breath is life, and yet so automatic is it that we are not conscious of it until we take note and give it thought. I am looking out upon a forest of pines, hemlocks, and other varieties of wild trees. How did they first come? Some are far more than a hundred years in age. Their roots are imbedded in earth so rocky I marvel that these trees have ever grown to such an age and to such a height. The great secret is that they breathe! Without atmosphere and sunlight they would never have been.

I look upon the beautiful and delicate leaves of the maple and oak, and marvel at such art—intricate and perfect. Even the circulatory system of the tree is most interesting and unique. Like the blood of the body, it gives life to the tree by way of the sap that is drawn from the rich earth—and into the most intricate formation of leaf does this sap go! But it is the breath of the tree that is its life, as it is in human beings. Let that stop and the tree dies.

We are all too prone to dismiss or idly pass over the significant things in life. The health man says to breathe deep. That is to give richer blood and a more abundant life. If it is good to breathe deep into the body, then it must be wise and suggestive to breathe deep into life and all its offerings and opportunities.

Merely to breathe is mechanical and natural. To work, to love, to serve is far more important and significant. God put into all of us the breath of life, but he did so that we might think out a plan of life and do something worthy about it.

This oxygen which we breathe into our lungs is far more than life to the blood—it is ozone to the soul as well! Especially when the mind takes a hand and mixes it with hope, will, and joyousness. Pure air and pure thoughts are twin boosters of health and long life. And out in the open are to be discovered most of the secrets of a happy and useful life. Nature is our greatest teacher and adviser.

I like to stand and lean against a great tree and breathe with it! It makes me feel akin to it, neighborly-like, and friendly. I have a little book about the late Dr. George Washington Carver, great scientist and man of faith, which says that he talked with flowers. I like to talk to trees, and listen to them breathe!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Routine."

CAMPAIGN STUFF

From now until the shouting ends,

If you believe the stuff you hear,

Republicans deserve no friends,

And Democrats are folk to fear.

Each party wants it understood

That it possesses all that's good.

The Democratic speaker cries

That all Republicans are vile.

And some Republican replies

No Democrat is free from guile.

The kettle screams: "The pot is black!"

The pot: "You're blacker!" answers back.

Both sides all manly virtues claim.

All orators will tell the throngs

The grim monopoly of shame

Unto the other side belongs.

And all the courage theirs remains

And all the nation's brightest brains.

Yet whichever side we choose,

This fact, I hold, we should recall

And sight of it must never lose:

Americans are one and all;

And for the starry flag above

Both parties have devoted love.

LEGIONNAIRES URGE FORCE TO BUST BLOCKADE

Philadelphia, Aug. 18 (P)—A resolution urging that force be used to break the blockade of Berlin will be placed before the four-day convention of the Pennsylvania American Legion opening today.

The resolution, sponsored by the Henry H. Houston post of Philadelphia, is expected to be one of the most controversial to come before the 7,000 Legionnaires.

It calls for the President and Congress "to serve notice on the present rulers of Soviet Russia and its people that should the land route to Berlin not be opened immediately to free and full use of American forces, a resolution should be placed before the United Nations Assembly, declaring Soviet Russia guilty of aggression and threatening world security."

The resolution further states that "if the U.N. resolution should fail of passage or fail to have the desired effect of freeing our forces in Berlin from a massed prisoner status, then it is the sense and desire of the membership of this post that military force be used to open lines of communication on land to our forces in Berlin."

Opens Tonight
Other resolutions are expected to deal with Communism, Universal Military Training, and veterans' housing.

The convention will open officially at 7 o'clock tonight was a war memorial service in Convention Hall.

After an address of welcome by Mayor Bernard Samuel of Philadelphia the Legion and its guests will hear a principal address by Major General Daniel B. Strickler, of Lancaster, commander of the 28th Division.

Among early arrivals for the convention was William L. Windsor, of Harrisburg, the present state Legion commander and former sheriff of Dauphin county. Under a rotation system adopted last year, he is due to be succeeded in office by Lawrence Trainor, of Duquesne.

The Legion will wind up its convention Saturday with a colorful six-hour parade.

Cigarette, Soft Drink Estimate Off

Harrisburg, Aug. 18 (P)—The Commonwealth has been forced to chop $16,000,000 from expected cigarette and soft drink tax receipts, but high returns from other levies are balancing the loss.

"We are still sticking by our prediction for all general fund receipts," said Otto F. Messner, acting secretary of revenue.

Messner said the cuts in the cigarette and soft drink levies were offset by better-than-expected returns from other taxes, particularly corporation and inheritance levies.

The budget bureau, after studying actual returns from levies in the first year of the fiscal period, topped $8,000,000 off the $35,000,000 the state estimated as the prospective receipts from the penny-a-bottle tax on soft drinks. It also cut a similar amount off the revenues expected from the four-cents-a-pack levy on cigarettes.

Wholesale Butter Prices Skid Again

New York, Aug. 18 (P)—Wholesale butter prices declined today for the third consecutive day on the New York Mercantile Exchange bringing the total drop for the week to about 5½ cents a pound.

Today's drop of 1½ to 2 cents a pound brings the price of high score butter to the lowest point since March 11, and for lower grades to the lowest level in several years.

Grade AA butter traded at 76 cents a pound, A at 72½, B at 67½ to 68 and C at 66.

Trade sources said besides seasonal factors the decline reflects consumer resistance, lower trends for grain and lessening in government demand for dried milk.

POLITICAL POT BOILING OVER, SAYS SENATOR

Washington, Aug. 18 (P)—Senator Murray (D-Mont.) contended today that President Truman is making political hay with his attacks on Congress, but Senator Watkins (R-Utah) promptly disputed this.

In a running argument that won't be settled until the November 2 election, Murray told a reporter all the signs point to public approval—particularly in the west—of the criticisms that Mr. Truman has leveled at Congress.

"From the mail I'm getting," the Montana senator said, "the people think the President is right in making an issue of Congress' failure to do anything about the high cost of living. They are cheering him on."

But Watkins had another story. He said the only people in his state who are impressed by Mr. Truman's statements "are those who would be for him anyway."

10,000-Word Defense
The same sort of dispute—only wordier—leaped into print in today's final post-session issue of the Congressional Record.

Rep. Halleck of Indiana, the GOP House leader, drafted a full-blown defense of the record of the 80th Congress. It ran some 10,000 words.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader and Vice Presidential nominee, whipped out a 200-word criticism of the special session, augmented by a long table aimed at countering Republican claims.

Halleck teed off with the observation that "the overwhelming majority of the American people" approve the record of the Republican Congress.

He accused President Truman of "unjustified and vicious" attacks in which Halleck said "45,000 propagandists on the federal payroll" had helped to "garble, twist and belittle" Congress' actions.

Labeling the President as "the biggest peacetime spender of all time," Halleck said the administration, "infected by radicalism and an easy prey for Communists' spy rings, viciously attacked Congress for cutting spendthrift budgets, for cutting taxes, for passing the Fair Labor-Management Act and for rejecting his efforts to bring back stifling OPA controls."

YANKEES END MANEUVERS IN BLOCKADE AREA

Berlin, Aug. 18 (P)—American foot troops wound up all-night defensive maneuvers early today in the Grunewald forest of Soviet-blockaded Berlin. Reports from Hamburg said the Russians are winding up summer maneuvers of their own near the zonal frontiers.

Helmeted troops with rifles, mortars and machineguns simulated delaying action against an "enemy" that had captured Gatow airport, the British supply field for the sealed off western sectors.

Officers in charge of the operation said British troops theoretically took part in the maneuver, although none were "fighting."

Earlier yesterday other American troops joined French units in maneuvers along the Rhine river near Heidelberg. It was the first time since the war's end the two Allies had engaged in joint war games. U.S. and French officers said the show was successful and predicted other such efforts in the future. Only 1,500 troops took part in the operation.

The Grunewald forest maneuver caused considerable excitement among the Germans. Several called the Associated Press bureau here to ask what truckloads of helmeted troops and armored cars were doing in the woods. The forest runs through the American and British sectors of Berlin.

Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Russian commander in Germany, today offered western Berliners 60,000 tons of coal as their "first winter installment."

The official Soviet news agency said the coal would be available in a few days for those western residents who had registered for food in the Russian sector.

The Russians proclaimed several weeks ago that they would feed all Berlin with grain imported from the Soviet Union. Only a small per cent of western Berliners went over to the Russian sector to register for food.

GIRL CRUSHED TO DEATH

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 18 (P)—A ten-ton truck carrying a load of bricks killed three-year old Lwandia Hamersley yesterday. State Policeman Eugene C. Ware said Arthur Besanco, driver of the truck, reported the little girl darted across the highway into the path of his truck.

hoff car swerved toward them as it approached them from Gettysburg, then straightened out and passed them. After it passed they saw what they thought was a bundle flying out of the car. They saw Woodward's car approaching from the South and when Woodward's car was almost at the body they found that what had appeared to be a "paper-wrapped bundle" was a woman.

Car Passed Over Body
Woodward seemed to apply his brakes and then his car passed over the body, they said. Woodward stopped his car about 30 feet further along the highway, they added, leaped out of the car, with the engine still running, and ran back to the woman lying on the highway.

Woodward's car then drifted back in a sort of curve, coming to rest against a slight embankment. Miss Margaret Bushman said she went to the Woodward car and turned off the engine. She said after Woodward had helped Althoff to carry the girl off the highway Woodward said he would call the hospital and she pointed out where his car was located. She said he then drove to Banker's restaurant.

State Policeman James Treas, who investigated, said that Woodward admitted that he had hit the woman, said he had given all the help he could and then planned to report to the police after work on the day following the accident. Woodward's statement, as read by Treas, disclosed that Woodward saw what he took to be a piece of wrapping paper about 194 feet away from the body, that he recognized that it was a human body about 93 feet away and then "I downed on the brakes and pulled to the side. I knew I couldn't miss her and so I tried to get as far away from the body as possible, passing over the legs."

According to Woodward's state-

Woodward then returned to the home of his girl friend where he had been before coming to Gettysburg to pick up his mother and remained there until about 2:30 o'clock in the morning.

THE QUEENSLAND—The trouble with many contemporary (modern) homes is that they range over so much territory that they are beyond the price level of the modern-inclined family that must build on a limited budget.

The Queensland is a contemporary home designed especially for those who must watch costs carefully. Under an attractive hipped roof its floor plan arrangements logically in the modern fashion. The living room is large and open to light and air on three sides. The kitchen is in front looking out over the street on what, since the advent of the automobile, has become the least attractive outlook of most plots. Like most modern houses, this house need not have a cellar. An adequate heater room is provided in the first floor. For those who insist on a basement the detailed working drawings provide a cellar alternate.

From a flagstone terrace, one enters a vestibule equipped with a good coat closet. A turn to the right and one enters the large living room. The kitchen opens to the left of the vestibule and is large enough for a permanent dining alcove. This is attractively placed in the corner window giving unobstructed views up and down the street. To balance the corner window in the dining alcove, a similar window is placed in the bedroom on the other side of the house. The exterior effect achieves the symmetry of fenestration that is a fundamental of good architecture. And, on the inside the use of corner windows in two strategic spots helps to make the attractive arrangement of furniture easy.

Like all the houses of our series, The Queensland was designed to the exacting requirements of Federal Housing Administration. The electrical plan was checked by the National Adequate Wiring Bureau. Blueprints and specifications may be had from Housing Plan Service, 140 Nassau Street, New York 7, N. Y.—for $7.50 per set.

OAK INCREASES IN POPULARITY FOR FLOORING

A steadily increasing preference for oak flooring in new homes, together with the marked upswing in housing construction, has resulted in an unprecedented demand for the material, which has prevented it from becoming more plentiful in recent months, according to the National Oak Flooring Manufacturers' Association.

The supply situation still is tight able, they ordinarily last the life of a house.

A considerable saving also can be gained in construction by having a first-floor utility room rather than a basement.

In many areas despite record output in the Southern and Appalachian regions, the nation's major producing areas, Association Secretary Henry H. Willins advised home builders, however, that sufficient quantities probably will be available for all residential needs this year. No home completions should be delayed because of lack of oak flooring, he emphasizes.

"If construction activity reaches the expected volume for 1948, the resultant demand will just about balance with supply," said Willins. "Although mills are turning out oak flooring at a record rate, orders are pouring in at an equal pace."

More Used Per Unit
"Reports from lumber dealers, contractors and builders in various parts of the country show a substantial increase in the use of oak flooring in new homes. Not only is it being employed in a greater percentage of new dwellings, but more of it is being used per unit than heretofore."

"Builders are finding that buyers are becoming more and more particular. Apparently taking the position that they are entitled to quality materials, the buyers are insisting on such features as oak flooring, which will last the life of a house."

"This condition is true even in some sections of the country where other species of woods formerly were used extensively because they were native to the areas. While no exact figures are available, it is estimated that well over 80 per cent of the nation's new homes are being equipped with oak flooring."

Second Floor Rooms
Willins pointed out that the greater use of this type of flooring per dwelling unit is especially significant since the floor area of the average postwar home is smaller than those of most homes built before the war. He attributed the gain to a growing preference for oak flooring in all parts of the house. In the past some home owners were satisfied with oak for the first floor only. Now many are demanding oak for second floor bedrooms, halls, playrooms and for finished attics.

Production of oak flooring this year in the Southern and Appalachian regions is expected to exceed by a considerable margin the record 1947 output of 624,725,000 board feet.

Simple Design Keeps Cost Down

Prospective home builders seeking means of keeping construction costs at a minimum can do so by employing simplicity of design, using economical materials and omitting certain non-essentials.

Architects point out that all this usually can be done without sacrifice of basic soundness or attractiveness. Simplified design permits numerous savings in construction costs. Examples of such economies are found in simple, straight-line roofs, and division of a house into a few multi-purpose rooms instead of a greater number of small rooms.

Another point of saving is designing a dwelling with an eye toward more uniformity in sizes of windows, doors and other millwork.

Further economies can be effected by using materials in which there is a minimum of waste and which can be applied without undue difficulty.

One should be careful, however, to select materials which are durable and efficient.

For such structural parts as the flooring, for example, oak and other hardwoods can be installed rapidly with little cutting, fitting or waste. Attractive and unusually service-

RED PROBE IS RECESSED; TO RESUME SEPT. 7

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Congressional spy drama went into a three-week intermission Tuesday as the House un-American activities committee admitted failure in its hunt for a perjured witness.

Across the capitol, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) struck out anew at the government's loyalty program. He declared that several persons suspected of spy activities have stayed in "sensitive" federal jobs "either through influence or neglect."

The House committee rang down the curtain with a terse statement that "we will resume public hearings on the espionage case Tuesday, September 7."

Hold Closed Session

That announcement followed a three-hour session behind bolted doors Monday at which the committee apparently failed to budge the story of Alger Hiss.

Hiss, a former top State Department official who now heads the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, has insistently denied any part in the "elite" Communist underground movement depicted by Whittaker Chambers. Hiss has said furthermore that to the best of his knowledge he didn't even know his accuser.

Chambers, now a senior editor of Time magazine, has testified that he gave up Communism in 1937 after having been a part of the underground that brought him into contact with Hiss and took him into Hiss' home.

Both men made their statements under oath. Both have been questioned secretly by the committee since then. But the committee publicly admitted Monday that it doesn't know "which one is telling the truth."

To Recall Chambers

Chambers is due for another closed-door session before August 25, the date set by the committee for what it calls a "confrontation."

The two men originally were scheduled to have faced each other before the committee Monday. But either through a misunderstanding or a change in signals, Hiss was the only one present.

For three hours he sat through a barrage of questions.

Finally he left. His only comment to newsmen was "I am not going to make any statement now."

Ferguson heads a Senate committee that has been investigating the government's loyalty program.

His contention that a number of spy suspects have been allowed to remain in government jobs was contained in a letter to Attorney General Clark.

The senator asked that Clark sit down with him in an effort to work out some agreement whereby the committee could get the personnel records and other data it seeks for its hearings.

24,000 AUTO WORKERS QUIT

Chicago, Aug. 18 (AP)—In a quick change of last minute signals, 24,000 CIO United Auto workers in seven International Harvester plants were ordered on strike Tuesday.

Instructions to walkout followed by just a few minutes union announcement that "International Harvester has made an offer . . . that is worth considering." The union then said Harvester had rejected further negotiations and that the strike was on.

The strike announcement was brief and made no further mention of an earlier offer by International Harvester. A union spokesman said simply: "We're on strike."

Just a short time earlier, the union had announced a postponement of the walkout set for 7 a.m. local time.

Richard Gosser, vice president of the CIO-UAW, had announced that the Harvester offer "is not on paper in detail" but that a workers' committee was meeting with the company "to reduce Harvester's proposal to contract language."

This all was wiped out by the last minute decision by Harvester to halt negotiations, the union said.

A company spokesman said that as far as International Harvester was concerned it still was "ready for further negotiations."

Expect Fast Time In Harness Races

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 18 (AP)—Predictions of two-minute miles were heard throughout the barns today as harness stars prepared for another day of grand circuit competition.

With 19 starters, the Ann Rutledge 2:14 class race will be raced in two divisions. Leading contenders in last week's Hambletonian tangle in the review futurity 3 year old pace.

Among them are Rollo, which finished second at Goshen; Egan Henover, which was third; Madison Hanover, a money winner; and Adele Hanover, another contender. Demon Hanover, the winner at Goshen, was not eligible for this stake which is worth $11,039.27.

Plane Reported Missing Is Found

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—State police at Albany reported Tues. that a plane reported missing from Cortland had been located in Pennsylvania and that Pennsylvania State Police had been advised to "disregard warrants" issued for two men.

Pennsylvania State Police at New Milford said Monday night the 2-engine Cessna landed at Hallstead, Pa. airport.

New York State Police said the New Milford police had been advised by teletype to "disregard warrants" pending further investigation by the district attorney's office of Cortland county. There was no further explanation.

HOPES RECORD NEVER BROKEN

By DUKE MORAN
Pittsburgh, Aug. 18 (AP)—Raiph Kiner loves to sock homers, but he hopes the record of 60 in a season stands—as a monument to the now immortal Babe Ruth.

"Naturally I'd like to hit a zillion home runs in a week or a season," commented the young Pittsburgh Pirate slugger. "But somehow I wouldn't be very happy if I ever got in the position where I might break the Babe's record. That 60 is synonymous with Ruth."

Kiner, current home run leader in the National league, hit his 31st round tripper of the season in the ninth inning last night to give the Pirates a 4-3 win over the Cincinnati Reds.

The Alhambra, Cal., star has been a home run leader since he broke into the majors three seasons ago. Many experts said he had a good chance of equalling or surpassing Ruth's record before his career is over.

"Only One Babe"
"I was too young to know the Babe in his heyday," Raiph said. "But I guess I was like every kid in America. I dreamed of being a home run hero like him some day. Yet now that he's dead it would kind of hurt me if I ever tied or broke his record. You see, there was only one Babe."

The modest mauler meant this. He's as unassuming now as he was as a rookie.

Ralph has slowed up in recent weeks in home run production. He has no illusions about endangering the bambino's mark this year.

"I doubt very seriously if I'll come very close to my output of last year unless I suddenly hit a hot streak."

His 51 homers in 1947 gave him a tie with Johnny Mize, of the New York Giants.

Offshore Wind Is Helping Firemen

Kodiak, Alaska, Aug. 18 (AP)—A strong offshore wind aided volunteers Tuesday in controlling a fire at the Kodiak Fisheries Cannery at Fort Bailey, 40 miles northwest of Kodiak.

A coast guard PBV plane which flew to the scene reported there were no casualties. The fire broke out last night.

First reports said an SOS was sent out requesting aid in evacuating village residents and cannery workers.

Extent of the fire's damage was not clear in sketchy reports received here. The pier area on which the cannery is located was reported in flames, but late reports said the blaze was dying down and under control. Fuel tanks and barracks were spared, it was indicated.

Fishermen coming from the Berling sea to Kodiak reported that smoke and flames were visible several miles at sea.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 18 (AP)—Thomas H. Casson, 43, was crushed to death here on Monday when buried under tons of falling brick while repairing the interior of a blast furnace. A fellow workman, George Brown, Jr., 20, escaped with minor injuries. Both are of Williamsport.

The Bambino

Big George on Baltimore Streets

THE story of Babe Ruth began in the Baltimore, Md., streets. He hardly knew his parents although his mother lived until he was 13 and his father, who owned a saloon, lived until Ruth was 24. However, at the age of seven Ruth was placed in the St. Mary's Industrial Home, a Catholic institution.

It was there that Brother Matthias took personal charge of the youngster and was to help him often during the rest of his baseball life. "Brother Matthias was the greatest man I've ever known," Ruth often said.

Ruth was born February 6, 1895, but he never knew it until 1934 when he went on a barnstorming trip to Japan. His birth certificate, necessary to obtain a passport, showed that Ruth was actually a year younger than he believed himself to be.

Many brothers took a liking to Big George, as the kids called him. They taught him a trade as a child and

FILIBUSTER TO END GAB-FESTS FACES CONGRESS

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—A history-shattering filibuster will open the next regular session of the Senate on January 4 if Republican leaders carry out their plans.

"It will be a filibuster to end all filibusters," Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told a reporter before leaving the capital. "It may take a month or longer, but it's an issue that should be settled."

Taft is chairman of the Senate's GOP policy committee.

Many attempts have been made to get a rule to permit Senate debate to be cutoff. The only one that succeeded — the present Cloture Rule adopted March 8, 1917 — has at least two big loopholes in it.

Republican leaders not only must retain their present narrow party margin in the Senate but also win active support of many Democrats to amend the present Senate rules. The Republicans now have 51 seats, the Democrats 45. The change would require a two-thirds vote.

Threatens Security

Taft and others who want to tighten the rules declare that the national security conceivably might be endangered by filibusters. If a few Senators opposed going to war with some nation threatening an invasion they might prevent or at least delay action for benefit of an enemy.

Advocates of present Senate rules insist that filibusters and unlimited debate have prevented more bad laws than good ones.

But attempts to jam through anti-lynch and similar measures have developed two loopholes.

Senators discovered that the Cloture Rule did not apply to the daily routine of correcting the official journal of the previous day's session.

They promptly moved to insert the chaplain's prayer or the names of Senators answering rollcalls or to change a comma to a semi-colon. This could take days and has.

Leaders eventually blocked this by "recessing" from day to day instead of "adjourning." As a result, one day became technically a continuation of the previous day, and there was no journal to read.

SAUDI ARABIA REJECTS OFFER

Washington, Aug. 17 (AP)—Saudi Arabia has turned down a $15,000,000 American loan because of this country's stand on Palestine.

"We feel we would like to get assistance from a friend and not from someone helping our enemy," a legation spokesman told a reporter.

The Export-Import bank has had $25,000,000 earmarked for use of King Ibn Saud's government ever since January 10, 1946. Some $10,000,000 of the credit was withdrawn soon thereafter. But the Saudi Arabians let the July 15 expiration date pass without taking any action on the remaining $15,000,000.

The original fund was scheduled to be used for a long-planned program of expanding and modernizing Saudi Arabian ports, highways, airports, hospital and power facilities.

"We will use our own money for the projects we have in mind," the legation spokesman said.

REVEALS $25,000

Asbury Park, N. J., Aug. 18 (AP)—Police Chief Leroy E. Holloway reported the theft of $25,000 in furs and jewelry from the hotel room of Mrs. Anthony Billera, Allentown, Pa. Holloway said Monday the valuables were taken Aug. 11 while Mrs. Billera was absent from her room at the Berkeley-Carter hotel.

The articles, the police said, included a $3,000 mink cape; a $4,000 platinum bracelet set with diamonds, a $4,000 white gold diamond bracelet and a $5,000 emerald cut diamond ring and baguettes.

Consider Camps For Delinquents

Harrisburg, Aug. 18 (AP)—A proposal to send juvenile delinquents to forest camps for rehabilitation is under study by a legislature committee.

"The idea would be to salvage wayward kids and return them to society rehabilitated," said Sen. Weldon B. Heyburn, chairman of the General Assembly's joint State Government commission.

The camps would be patterned after the Civilian Conservation Corps camps sponsored by the Federal government during the depression years.

Other proposals submitted to a sub-committee studying juvenile delinquency included the establishment of child guidance centers, expanding year-round recreation programs in schools and setting up an agency to decide on the extent of punishment of juvenile delinquents.

ALABAMA MAY BLOCK TRUMAN

Washington, Aug. 18 (AP)—President Truman's lieutenants were said today to have about given up hope of winning a place on the Alabama ballot.

With organized labor helping out, a move is underway there to put a slate of 11 pro-Truman electors in opposition to a group pledged to vote against the president.

But Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.), who opposed the president's Civil Rights program, told a reporter he doesn't believe there is any way short of a special session of the state legislature to get Truman supporters on the ticket.

Hold Some Hope

The pro-Truman group decided Tuesday to have about given up hope to assemble again in Birmingham August 28 and nominate a slate of electors then.

But even if a Truman ticket is not on the ballot, some administration leaders think that if Alabama's 11 votes were needed to elect Mr. Truman over Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the weight of southern public opinion would swing toward the Democratic nominee.

Pro-Truman moves also are underway in South Carolina and Mississippi. But in both of these states, the president's supporters are given little chance to get on the ballot.

The president's friends look on these moves, however, as a hopeful sign. They say all may not be lost in the south despite the vigorous Dixie reaction to the Civil Rights program.

Elsewhere the Democrats are shoring up their campaign ship with varying success.

Two Accused Of Stealing Bridge

Rome, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—Two Syracuse junk dealers were arraigned on Tuesday on the charge that they stole a highway bridge.

The men told police the span was given to them by a "man with a badge."

The Onondaga county sheriff's office identified the junk dealers as Lucas Jennings and Willie Seward. They were held in Onondaga county jail on grand larceny charges.

Sgt. Arthur Willis of the Onondaga sheriff's department said the men related that a farmer had directed them to a "sheriff" up the road when they inquired about the bridge, over a small stream on Route 26 near West Branch. They said the second man, who had a badge, "didn't say he owned it, but said he was in possession of it, and that we could have it."

They cut the span down with an acetylene torch and sold the steel in Syracuse for $84, Willis said.

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 18 (AP)—A tractor overturned last night on a nearby farm and killed three-year-old James G. Heller. The child was riding on the vehicle with his father, Parke, a brother, five-year-old Fred, and Witmer Martin, a hired man. The others escaped with minor injuries.

WOMAN'S WILL LEAVES MONEY TO HOME TOWN

Philadelphia, August 18 (AP)—A little coal mining town 36 miles from Pittsburgh Tuesday inherited millions of dollars left it by a wealthy Philadelphia woman.

Mrs. Mary Fuller Frazier, who herself inherited several million dollars in 1918, left all but $210,000 of her estate to the village of Perryopolis.

The bequest was disclosed Tuesday as her will was filed for probate.

The amount of the estate was not made known. She inherited $1,350,102 in personal property and a large share of $7,000,000 in real estate 30 years ago from her uncle, Alfred M. Fuller, of Perryopolis.

After making 18 specific grants totaling $110,000 and setting up a $100,000 trust fund to provide a watchman and constant upkeep for the family mausoleum in Perryopolis, Mrs. Frazier left the entire residuary estate for public improvements in the tiny community of 1,300 persons.

Ancestral Home

Mrs. Frazier, divorced wife of Johnson Miller Frazier, former manager of the Bellevue-Stratford hotel here, died August 6. She explained in her will that Perryopolis was the place where "I was born and lived, and where my father and mother lived and my grandfather and grandmother lived."

One half of the residuary estate is to be used outright for "public improvements" while the remaining half will be held in trust for the purpose of maintaining the improvements.

Michael Karolick, grocer, theater operator and fire department chief in Perryopolis, said the money will be used to have the streets paved, public schools repaired, a library built and the Perry township high school equipped with a stadium.

But, most of all, the money will go for lighting purposes.

"We've been talking for a long

Turnpike Is Given $131 Million Check

Philadelphia, Aug. 17 (AP)—A check for $131,872,165.70, described as the largest amount ever raised in a bond issue in American financial history, was presented Tuesday to the Pennsylvania turnpike commission.

The money will be spent for extension of the turnpike from its present eastern terminus at Carlisle, Pa., to Philadelphia. Date that work is to be begun on the extension has not yet been set. The 160-mile toll road now runs from Carlisle to Irwin, near Pittsburgh.

The check was given Thomas J. Evans, chairman of the turnpike commission, by Edward Hopkinson, Jr., senior partner in Drexel & Co., Philadelphia and New York investment bankers who handled the loan.

Evans in turn presented the check to Miles S. Altomero, vice president of Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Co., trustee of the bond issue.

Altomero described the sum as "the largest bond issue in American financial history." He said the issue was sold in every part of the country.

Generous Woman Lives In Hallway

Pittsburgh, Aug. 18 (AP)—It's a bit crowded but Mrs. Anna Brandon, 65, of Ingram has set up housekeeping in the hallway of her home.

A victim of her own generosity, Mrs. Brandon rented the first floor of the house in the belief the second floor tenants were going to move.

The second floor tenants didn't move and that left Mrs. Brandon with nothing but the hall. She moved her bed to the attic. But in the narrow hallway she set up her davenport, refrigerator, dresser and kitchen cupboard.

She cooks her meals on a one burner hotplate and eats off the top of a storage cabinet. She finally had her stove set up in the cellar because:

No. 1. Coming Up The Hard Way

As a Left Handed Catcher

he became fairly proficient as a shirt maker. But baseball was his first and only love.

St. Mary's had a number of baseball teams but Ruth caught for the No. 1 team—and he was an unorthodox southpaw catcher. He caught with the mitt on his left hand, dropping the glove each time he made a throw to the pitcher or to one of the bases.

When Ruth was 17, he laughed one day when a St. Mary's pitcher was being pounded. Brother Matthias didn't think it funny. So he forced Ruth to try to do better. From that time Babe was a pitcher.

A year later, Brother Gilbert, a teacher from Mt. St. Joseph's, another Catholic school, interested Jack Dunn, Baltimore Oriole manager, in the raw 160-pound six-foot-two recruit with the flat nose and spindly legs.

In the spring of 1914 Ruth was on his way. He had signed his first contract—$600 a year. After one month his salary was doubled to $1,200 and after the second month it went up to $1,800.

An International League Rookie

One of the Baltimore coaches, seeing Ruth following Dunn, said in jest:

"Here comes Dunn with his newest Babe." The nickname stuck and it became the most famous baseball has ever known.

Before the season was over Dunn had sold Ruth to the Boston Red Sox for a sum variously reported between $2,900 and $10,000. But the left handed pitcher wasn't ready for the majors. After a month during which he won two games and lost one the Red Sox sent him to Providence, R. I., and he helped the team win the International League pennant.

The seasoning Ruth obtained in Providence was just what he needed.

BRADLEY WILL INSPECT 28TH AT GAP TODAY

Indiantown Gap, Pa., Aug. 18 (AP)—The 28th Infantry division, Pennsylvania National Guard, polished up today for an inspection tomorrow by its old commander — General Omar Bradley, army chief of staff.

General Bradley will fly here from Washington to inspect the outfit which he commanded from June 28, 1942, to Feb., 1943, at Camp Livingston, La., and at Camp Gordon, Johnston, Fla.

Bradley will be met by top Keystone Guard officers headed by Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, camp commander of the current two-week summer guard encampment.

General Strickler, present division commander, and Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania, is one of General Bradley's many former organization commanders still with the division.

As commander of the first battalion, 109th Infantry under General Bradley, Strickler organized the "Swimmando Battalion" for commando crossings of streams and rivers.

Meanwhile this huge military reservation bustled with activity as some 12,500 guardsmen swung into the midst of intensive training maneuvers.

Some of the units sharpened their aim on the firing range, while others attended classroom lectures and still others drilled on sprawling Muir field.

The 11th Infantry, of Erie, completed the tough 2½ day field camp, while the 11th of Philadelphia, hitched up its hiking equipment and prepared to undergo a similar grind.

50,000 View

that a picture of the Babe making a home-run wallop.
Ruth's body was taken to the stadium late in the afternoon in a hearse, escorted by two motorcycle patrolmen. A small crowd already had gathered.
Atop the casket as it was carried inside was a single wreath of roses, with a plain card on which was written:
"All my love to Pop-Dot."

The signature was that of Mrs. Dorothy Flanders, one of Ruth's adopted daughters.
Roman Catholic funeral services for the one-time Yankee slugger will be at 10 a. m. (EST) tomorrow with a solemn high requiem mass in St. Patrick's cathedral on Fifth avenue. He will be buried in Gate of Heaven cemetery, Westchester county, N. Y.
Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will head a group of 59 honorary pallbearers, which will include many prominent sportswriters, athletes and former teammates of Ruth.

Several of the Babe's former teammates and friends appeared on radio programs on three national networks last night to pay homage to the greatest hitter of them all.
Had Throat Cancer
Among those who joined in the tributes were A. B. Chandler, baseball's high commissioner; William Harridge and Ford Frick, presidents of the American and National leagues, respectively; and Connie Mack, the "grand old man" of baseball whose 47 years as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics overlapped Ruth's career.
Ruth's own voice, recorded in interviews years ago, was heard on two of the programs.
The throat cancer that killed the Babe originated in the nasopharynx, a part of the air passages back of the nose in a place under the skull that is inaccessible to surgery in cancer cases.
This was disclosed yesterday by the Memorial Hospital Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases where Ruth died after an illness of two years.
The hospital said the fact that Ruth had cancer was determined a year or two ago. But the Babe never knew he had the dread disease.

Lightning causes about 400 deaths and 1,000 injuries a year in the United States.
